

Expected to increase 7.5% on a panindia basis this year .

Average house prices were foecast to rise 6% next year and in 2024.

The fastest growth in five years according to a euters poll of property analysts.

The residential rreal estate in india bounded back post the pandemic and continues its strong momentum since last year.

Financial year 2022-23

new launches and sale

across major indian

cities in india.

witness the highest - ever

The trends will likely contiue the sale and supply will likely grow and the price rise will be moderate.

Aided by increased preference for home ownership, relative affordability, quality supply etc...

Analysing Housing prices in Metropolitan Areas of India.

Housing price prediction in the metropolitician city in india is a variable solution for politician home buyerss,real estate and investors.

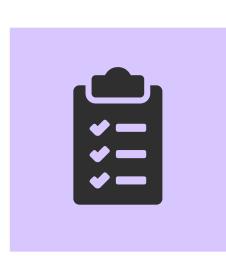

Collection of price of new and resale houses located in the metropolitian area of india.

The amenities provided for each houses.

By leveraging historical sales
data,property details,
and location specific information a predictive model can accuretely estimate

house prices.

These investors and speculators use to invest on more than one real estate placed in various location with the primary objective of capital appreciation.

Does

What behavior have we observed? What can we imagine them doing?

What are their fears, frustrations, and anxieties? What other feelings might influence their behavior?

